Vancouver Snapshot  13
AUTHOR NOTE: Vancouver is a kid-friendly city and there are plenty of activities to keep both the kids and adults happy. Whether you're looking to learn, listen or play - there are enough activities to keep you busy for days. Many of Vancouver's restaurants are also kid-friendly, but provide an atmosphere for the parents to feel 'grown-up'. You can be sure that after this entertaining trip, everyone will get a good night's sleep.
Day 1 - Vancouver

DAY NOTE: There are many bakeries in the West End, close to your hotel that you can grab breakfast at. The choices are really endless. If you would like to sit down and enjoy your breakfast, there are many restaurants that are open early and serve breakfast along Davie and Denman Street. Make your way over to Science World where the kids will both be entertained and gain some knowledge. There are many different exhibitions and you can easily spend a large portion of the day in here. After spending a lengthy amount of time inside, head over to Stanley Park for some fresh air and go for a ride on one of the Stanley Park Horse Drawn Tours. As the evening approaches, your tummy will start to rumble and Copones Restaurant & Live Jazz Club will provide both delicious food and great entertainment.

- Science World
  - Experiments, fun facts and cool displays

- Stanley Park Horse Drawn Tours
  - Narrated Ride through Beauty

- Capones Restaurant & Live Jazz Club
  - Live Jazz and Tasty Food

- Coast Plaza Suite Hotel
  - Great for families

Day 2 - Vancouver

DAY NOTE: Bald Eagle Viewing is a full day activity. Drive an hour out of Vancouver to Brackendale, there you will be in awe by the thousands of Bald Eagles that await you. The views and birds are equally amazing. Grab some drinks and food from any of the cafés or grocery stores by your hotel and pack a picnic to enjoy after you find a spot to watch nature fly by. Make sure to bring your own water as there are no facilities that provide it. If you’re into fishing, grab your rod and get your BC fishing license and catch some salmon! After a scenic drive back into the city, go have dinner at Memphis Blues Barbeque House - the food is smokin’! The authentic Southern dishes will please any palette. Because you can’t take the kids out too late, the CN IMAX Theatre is a good way to end the night before tucking the kids into bed. If you are in Vancouver during the summer months, you might even see cruise ships setting sail close to the CN IMAX.

- Bald Eagle Viewing
  - You won’t see any of this in the city

- Memphis Blues Barbeque House
  - A taste of the South

- CN IMAX Theatre
  - Mega-screen marvels

- Coast Plaza Suite Hotel
  - Great for families

Day 3 - Vancouver

DAY NOTE: What child does not like theme-parks? Playland is a thrilling way to spend the day in East Vancouver. There are many rides that are suitable for adults, kids and both alike! If roller-coasters aren’t your things, there are also plenty of games and even concerts to keep you and the kids busy. After a busy day of rides and games, go to Incendio, it's a fantastic pizza joint in Gastown that will satiate that hunger you built up.

- Playland
  - City's Amusement Park

- Incendio
  - Modern Pizzeria

- Coast Plaza Suite Hotel
  - Great for families

Day 4 - Vancouver

DAY NOTE: You and your kids will get a kick out of the HR Macmillan Space Centre. Located close just across the Burrard Bridge, it's just a short bus ride from your hotel. The great thing about the HR Macmillan Space Centre is that it's close to Vanier Park and the Vancouver Museum; so if you want to make a day of the area, it's easy to do! The HR Macmillan Space Centre has everything from a planetarium, a virtual simulator, laser shows, a cosmic courtyard and an observatory. The observatory is best at night! Jump back on the bus and go towards downtown. Make sure to grab a bite to eat at Vera’s Burger Shack. It’s a classic Vancouver burger joint that serves up high quality burgers, for a reasonable price. A great way to spend the afternoon is to head over to Lynn Canyon and check out the hikes and the Lynn Canyon Ecology Centre. It's both educational and beautiful.
Itinerary Overview

Finish the day off with a culinary educational experience at Hapa Izakaya. This place is great because it's a fun atmosphere and there are plenty of Japanese tapas to try.

- HR Macmillan Space Centre
  - State-of-the-art Fun

- Vera's Burger Shack
  - Great burgers, quick and casual

- Lynn Canyon Ecology Centre
  - Nature hut in Lynn Canyon

- Hapa Izakaya
  - Hip, loud and funky

OUR LOCAL EXPERT SAYS:
Please note: Science World will be closed until the conclusion of the 2010 Olympic Games

DESCRIPTION: Go with the kids or your grandma, Science World, also known as TELUS World of Science, is bound to excite all ages with the cool and educational exhibits. Science World keeps things fresh and interesting by hosting rotating exhibits alongside their permanent displays. The 400-seat OMNIMAX theatre is the perfect way to spend a rainy afternoon. Located at the end of Vancouver’s False Creek, Science World is easily accessible by bus, Aquabus or Skytrain. © NileGuide

MY NOTE: Bring out the inner child in you and share the excitement with your kids as you learn from the many exhibitions at Science World.
Located around False Creek, getting there is easy by Skytrain, bus or walking.

2 Stanley Park Horse Drawn Tours

DESCRIPTION: Take a ride in an old-fashioned horse-drawn carriage and watch the splendor of Stanley Park roll by. See sights like Deadman's Island, the city harbour and Lions Gate Bridge. The totem poles, Girl in a Wet Suit statue, S.S. Empress of Japan Figurehead and the Rose Gardens are all stopovers. The one-hour tours are narrated and depart every 20 minutes from the park's information booth. No reservations are required. © wcities.com

MY NOTE: Stanley Park is Vancouver's version of Central Park in New York City. With a diverse amount activities in the park, taking the Stanley Park Horse Drawn Tour is a great way to see the park and decide where you want to go back.

3 Capones Restaurant & Live Jazz Club

DESCRIPTION: Locals visit this lively Italian restaurant in the trendy area of Yaletown for live jazz and good food. The menu consists mainly of pastas, tapas and pizzas. It’s a good late night venue to visit, but expect line-ups, as the restaurant is small and the combination of jazz and good Italian food is hard to resist. Dinner timings: Daily 5 p.m. till late. © wcities.com

MY NOTE: Delicious food in one of Vancouver's hippest neighborhoods is complimented by live jazz music. Your belly will be filled and your ears will be entertained.

4 Coast Plaza Suite Hotel

DESCRIPTION: Vacationing families will enjoy the convenience of having a complete modern kitchen in their rooms. The suites and rooms also come with coffeemakers, pay movies, mini bars and ocean views. Business travellers and families alike will appreciate the balconies, where you can enjoy the meal or just the view. It is centrally located in the West End, near stunning Stanley Park. The hotel offers complimentary limousine service within the downtown area. © wcities.com

MY NOTE: The Coast Plaza Suite Hotel is located in the West End and is conveniently located to many shops, restaurants, beaches and transportation hubs. All rooms are suites, which is great for a family!

Bald Eagle Viewing

DESCRIPTION: Tour buses whisk you 45 minutes south of Whistler to Brackendale - to the world's highest concentration of bald eagles. The best time to take in these birds is from November to February. The birds perch themselves on nearby trees and patiently wait for their next meal - fresh salmon swimming in the Squamish river. Then they swoop in for the catch. An awe-inspiring spectacle for all ages! Some tours include a narrated walking tour and binoculars. Dress warmly and don't forget your camera. © wcities.com

MY NOTE: Thousands of visitors make the trip out to Brackendale to watch one of nature's endangered bird, the Bald Eagle. Over 3700 Bald Eagles make their way there each year to feast on the spawning salmon.
2. Memphis Blues Barbeque House

DESCRIPTION: With four locations in Vancouver, no matter where in the city you are, you will never be far from some succulent authentic barbecue. Memphis Blues Barbeque House is for all the meat lovers out there and is a great place to bring kids. Start out with the Rib Ends and make sure to use up the BBQ sauce they’re served with. The Memphis Feast is a great option for those wanting to share and try all the different meats and fixings. The pulled pork is a tried and true classic, but the BBQ chicken is also not to be ignored. There aren’t many authentic Southern barbecue restaurants in Vancouver and Memphis Blues Barbeque House is worth a visit to. © NileGuide

MY NOTE: Authentic Southern BBQ can be enjoyed at Memphis Blues Barbecue House. There’s something on the menu for both you and the kids. The pulled pork and smoked chicken are delicious! The prices will also satisfy your wallet.

3. CN IMAX Theatre

DESCRIPTION: If you get a bit squeamish on amusement park rides, this mega-theatre at Canada Place probably won’t be your favorite place to visit. The experience will give you the sensation of being right in the middle of the action that takes place onscreen. The theatre has a giant screen, surround sound, and stacked seating so that every seat in the house has a good view. Some shows featured have been Extreme, a spectacle of dangerous, hard-core sports like skiing and climbing, and Into the Deep, an underwater exploration. Check local listings for times and shows. © wcities.com

MY NOTE: Located at Canada Place, Downtown Vancouver, the CN IMAX Theatre shows a changing rotation of awesome movies. You and the kids will both be entertained.

4. Coast Plaza Suite Hotel

DESCRIPTION: Vacationing families will enjoy the convenience of having a complete modern kitchen in their rooms. The suites and rooms also come with coffeemakers, pay movies, mini bars and ocean views. Playland

Description: Located on the east side of the city about 20 minutes out of downtown, this popular amusement park is made up of many rides, including a giant roller coaster called the Revelation and other frighteningly state-of-the-art rides. The park has a rides section for younger children and a variety of concession stands and games. © wcities.com

My Note: Playland at the PNE is another great all day activity to enjoy with the kids. With many rides and games, you will be entertained all day long!
Incendio

DESCRIPTION: If you're looking for something casual and local that won’t be full of other tourists reading downtown maps, this little Gastown hideaway is just the spot. The 22 pizza combinations are served on fresh, crispy crusts baked in an old wood-fired oven; pastas are homemade. The wine list is decent; the beer list is inspired. And they even have a patio. Much to the delight of Kitsilano residents, a second location with a slightly larger menu opened next to the 5th Avenue movie theater at 2118 Burrard (tel. 604/736-2220). © Frommer’s

MY NOTE: Incendio has some of Vancouver’s best pizza. The extensive food menu will satisfy even the pickiest eater, and the large wine and beer list will satisfy the parents’ thirst.

Local Info

Vancouver is Canada’s third largest city and the only major city that’s surrounded by ocean, mountains, sand and farmland. It’s unique landscape makes it appealing to travelers with varying interests; whether you’re into hiking, sailing, skiing, snowboarding, shopping or swimming, Vancouver has something that will keep everyone entertained. The cultures that embody Vancouver are as diverse as its landscape and can be seen in the many different businesses and neighborhoods around the city.

Downtown

Downtown Vancouver is home to the Business, Shopping and Nightlife Districts. Although a major city, Vancouver is spread over a relatively small area, which makes getting around the city a breeze. Downtown you can find Robson Street, Vancouver’s most famous shopping district. Just off of Robson, you will find high-end boutiques, luxurious hotels and divine restaurants.

Head North of Robson Street and you will find yourself heavily immersed in Vancouver’s Business and Financial District. Tall skyscrapers tower the streets and locals dressed in power suits charge down the sidewalks. Mixed amongst the concrete and glass you will find many cafés and perfect spots to stop and have lunch at. Canada Place is on the edge of the Business District, perched on the water and looks out over the water onto North and West Vancouver. Canada Place is home to many conventions and events that attract visitors from far and wide. Nestled at the back of Canada Place is the IMAX Theatre, where the movie list is constantly changing. Canada Place is also the anchor point to many cruise ships and during the summer it’s a busy hub as the ships come and go.

The West End

West of Robson Street is Vancouver’s West End. The West End is a colorful neighborhood that’s rich in diversity and full of delightful cafés, restaurants and shops. The pink bus stops and Gay Pride flags give this neighborhood charm and a warm welcome to all visitors that stroll through. Davie Street is home to the West End’s busy shopping and lively nightlife district. Stroll all the way down Davie Street and you will find yourself face-to-face with the ocean. English Bay is popular amongst locals for it’s great view, perfect picnic backdrop and sensational sunsets. Stanley Park, Vancouver’s own rainforest surrounded by city, is a short walk, bike or bus ride from the West End. The Seawall runs around the city and provides an easy path to get from English Bay to Stanley Park.

Gastown

Gastown is just a hop, skip and a jump away from Vancouver’s Business District and is the oldest neighborhood in the city. During the summer, when Vancouver’s tourism is at its peak, Gastown is buzzing with visitors. There are plenty of art galleries, shops, restaurants and interesting historical facts that draw tourists to this area of town. In the heart of Gastown there is a tribute to Gassy Jack, Vancouver’s first settler, and it draws visitors to stand around and gaze at his statue. Gastown is famous for its vocal Gastown Steam Clock and it’s not uncommon to see a crowd huddled around the musical timepiece on any given day of the year. Wander down the red cobbled streets, fitted with trendy boutiques and art shops, and admire some of Vancouver’s oldest architecture and Victorian street lamps.

Chinatown

A short walk away from Gastown, and you will find yourself being welcomed by the Vancouver Chinatown Millennium Gate upon entering Chinatown. Vancouver’s Chinatown is the second largest in North America, second only to San Francisco’s. Rich with culture and many different shops, you will feel as though you have traveled outside of Canada while you wander the foreign streets. While in Chinatown, make sure to stop in at Dr. Sun Yat-Sen Classical Chinese Garden and the Chinese Cultural Centre. Traditional Chinese culture has been transported into Vancouver via these attractions. Dr. Sun Yat-Sen Classical Chinese Garden is rife with customary Chinese architecture and botany. Chinatown is a great spot to grab some dim sum and pick up a souvenir to take back home.

Yaletown

Southeast of Robson Street is Yaletown, one of Vancouver’s newest and trendiest neighborhoods. Known historically for being the city’s warehouse district, it took a turn for change during Expo’86 and has since become a place filled with unique shops, new condos and luxurious restaurants. Perched on the edges of the Seawall, Vancouver’s Nightlife District on Granville Street and Robson Street, Yaletown is a central hub to many of Vancouver’s neighborhoods. Yaletown is a great place to spend the afternoon shopping and dining on one of the many patios that are scattered in the area.

False Creek

Across from Yaletown is False Creek, which is a quiet residential area along the water and it’s also home of the Olympic Village and Science World. Twelve blocks up from the water and you will find yourself on Broadway Street, which is a bustling street that stretches from East Vancouver to Kitsilano. There are many buses that go along Broadway, which makes it an ideal route to get from one side of the city to another.

South Granville

South Granville is smack in the middle of False Creek and Kitsilano. Granville Street extends itself from Downtown all the way out to Richmond, a suburb of Vancouver. South Granville has many great stores, restaurants, antique shops and art galleries. Take a wander down to Granville Island and you will be at one of Vancouver’s best attraction’s that stirs both locals and visitors together. Public transportation makes it a breeze to quickly get from Downtown Vancouver to South Granville or Granville Island.

Kitsilano

Just past the South Granville area you will find yourself in Kitsilano. “Kits”, as locals refer to it, is home to Vancouver’s most popular beaches and depending on how secluded you want to be, there’s a beach to suit whatever your preference may be. Kits Beach is usually packed with both young and old people that spend the day playing volleyball, swimming, sun tanning and picnicking. Further into Kitsilano there are some less busy beaches; Jericho and Spanish Banks are fantastic spots.
where you won't feel overwhelmed by crowds. Wreck Beach is well known amongst liberal sunbathers and clothing is optional at this beach. With two main shopping streets, West Broadway and 4th Avenue, you will spoiled for choice when it comes to stores, restaurants and spas. 4th Avenue is just a short walk from the beach, which makes it both convenient and easy to access.

North Vancouver & West Vancouver
Locals usually give directions that indicate North, South, West and East and an easy way to figure out where North is, is to look for the mountains. North of Downtown Vancouver is North Vancouver and West Vancouver, or as locals call them, "North Van" and "West Van". North and West Van are both lovely residential and commercial areas. Taking a trip up the mountain to go hiking or skiing is a breeze when you’re on this side of town. Cypress Mountain and Grouse Mountain are a short drive away, and a very scenic one at that. Some of the best hikes and biking trails are in North Vancouver. Capilano Suspension Bridge and Lynn Canyon are both popular choices amongst locals and tourists when they want to get their heart rate up and enjoy some fresh air. Lonsdale Quay is like North Van's Granville Island. It's a busy market filled with many different counters that range from fresh fish, creamy cheeses and tasty baked treats. If you’re going to Whistler, you can take the Sea-to-Sky Highway from West Vancouver up to Whistler.

East Vancouver
East Vancouver is one of the city's older neighborhoods that is quickly gaining popularity amongst young families and attracting all types of crowds with their hip stores and diverse variation of restaurants and bars. Commercial Street is always hopping with people because there’s something for everyone there. Vancouver's own "Little Italy" is on Commercial and there are plenty of stores and cafés to get a fix for something your Italian Mamma would make you. The PNE has been around in East Van for years and still has its original roller coaster. There are a number of new and old rides that create an exhilarating afternoon for kids, or the kid in you.

History
This young city was once a wild, densely forested and mountainous coastal area inhabited only by First Nations people and wildlife. Many events have combined to transform the once wild setting into the thriving cultural and business center it is today. Yet the city retains its natural beauty, now set around a diverse urban core. And to think it all began with a couple of explorers who recognized the bountiful resources and spectacular potential of the area.

When British explorer Captain James Cook first arrived here in 1778, the natives in Nootka Sound mistook the captain and his raggedy crew for a boatful of strange, transformed salmon. It's no wonder, really; the First Nations had lived undisturbed for thousands of years. The region’s temperate climate, coastal location and excellent food supply made it an ideal place for natives to subsist comfortably for most of the year. Many, including the Musqueam, Kwantlen and Squamish lived and thrived along the shorelines of Burrard Inlet. But then the white European settlers came and claimed the land as their own, altering years of relatively peaceful living.

The city’s transformation began with explorers seeking the Northwest Passage, a sea route through northern America. In 1791, Spanish explorer Jose Maria Narvaez came through the waters but decided not to go ashore. In June of the following year, two more explorers showed up. England’s Captain George Vancouver led his ship, the sloop H.M.S. Discovery, into Burrard Inlet and later went on to chart the area’s waters. He exchanged information with Spanish explorer Dionisio Alcala Galiano, who showed Captain Vancouver maps he had already made of the area.

Though the British controlled the area, it wasn’t until 1808 that they sent Simon Fraser to set up trading posts in the region. The fur trade, which was followed by gold rush mania, would forever alter the region.

Settlers thrived on fish, lumber, fur and farming. In 1858, gold was discovered on the Fraser River and, within weeks, nearly 30,000 Americans had flocked to the area in search of bounty. Fearing a takeover by the Americans, the British declared the mainland a British colony, thereby keeping the prosperity under its control. In 1859, New Westminster (once called Sapperton because British sappers were stationed there) was incorporated and declared the capital of the province.

Meanwhile, a talkative gentleman named John Deighton pulled his canoe into Burrard Inlet and decided to capitalize on the area’s industry. The village he founded was eventually named Gastown after him, the name derived from his loquacious nickname: “Gassy Jack.” Deighton opened up a successful saloon, serving hundreds of thirsty mill workers and prospectors in the budding town. Gastown began to fill up with small shops and services. Deighton was more than just a notorious saloon owner, though. Some historians say he was the founding father of Vancouver because he had faith in its potential before anyone else did.

As the population grew, people moved outward to settle in areas now known as Burnaby and Delta. The first newspaper went to the presses in 1861, and the first hospital was built the following year. In 1865, the first telegraph lines reached here, and the first message to travel along its wires announced the assassination of U.S. President Abraham Lincoln. Other urban staples appeared including a rudimentary postal system and a stagecoach line for transportation. Extensive logging soon cleared the area.

Canada was confederated in 1867, and the sweeping effects of this change were felt almost immediately in Vancouver. One of the pivotal moments in the history of the city was the extension of the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1884. The railroad now reached clear across the country and brought thousands of people to the area to do business and settle. Rapid development began, and the population grew from 400 to 13,000 in four years.

In 1886, the city of Vancouver—population 1,000—was officially incorporated. Two months later, the Great Fire of 1886, driven by strong winds, destroyed virtually the entire downtown area in just 20 minutes. That same day, after the smoke had cleared, with just half-a-dozen buildings left standing, the citizens of Vancouver began to rebuild. Buildings erected that year still stand today. One of the most significant changes brought by the fire was the transformation of the town’s military reserve into the now famous Stanley Park, the city's oasis. The opening of the Panama Canal, which facilitated travel, imports and exports to and from Europe, spurred growth of the city's port, located in one of the world's finest natural, year-round harbors.

By 1928, the Lower Mainland's population had reached more than 150,000. Many memorable mayors governed the growing city; these included Gerry McGreer. McGreer was an enthusiastic politician who came into office in the 1930s with election guns blazing. He promised to eradicate gambling, white slavery, corruption and other issues important to the city's wealthy residents. He promised the impossible, but he did succeed in building the Art Deco Vancouver City Hall in 1936.

Like everywhere else, the Great Depression took a toll on the city. Some growth, however, did occur in the 1930s, including the creation of the Vancouver Art Gallery and opening of a steel plant in Burnaby.

World War Two pulled the city out of its economic lull: shipyards, factories, parts exporting and real estate boomed. Human rights also got a positive injection when East Indian and Chinese-Canadian citizens finally got the provincial vote in 1947. Japanese-Canadians and First Nations people, however, had to wait until 1949 for the same right.

The 1950s was an era of rapid growth and prosperity, including the extensive development of suburban Vancouver. The population rose to 800,000 by 1961. The 1960s saw many additions to the city's physical and cultural portfolio: the B.C. Lion's won the Canadian Football League’s Grey Cup, the Vancouver Canucks debuted in the National Hockey League, and Simon Fraser University, the Second Narrows Bridge, 401 Freeway, and the world-class Whistler Ski Resort were built.

This young cosmopolitan city has a brief but exciting history. Many weird and wonderful events have shaped its urban personality, from the local raiding of the biggest LSD factory in the world to our newfound reputation as "Hollywood North." The city has become the third largest in the country, with an international reputation as one of the best places in the world to live and visit.

Hotel Insights

Most accommodation in Vancouver was designed with the discerning visitor in mind. There is a variety of lodgings available, from economical to the luxurious, from modern to historical, and from quiet beachside locations to those at the bustling city core. If cost is of no real concern, downtown has many world-class luxury and business hotels. There are also more modest but comfortable hotels, motels, and bed and breakfasts situated throughout the city that offer inexpensive and moderately priced rooms.

Downtown

Major shops, services, restaurants and attractions are located in the heart of downtown, so it's no surprise that larger hotel chains and landmark hotels call it home. Among them is the Fairmont Hotel Vancouver, where Queen Elizabeth billets when visiting the coast. It is one of the city's oldest and most striking landmarks, and its green copper chateau-style roof towers above the city skyline. Across the street is the Grand Old Lady of Georgia Street, the Crowne Plaza Hotel Georgia. The 12-storey heritage building has occupied the corner of Howe and West Georgia streets since 1927.

Business travelers will find staying at the Hyatt Regency and the Four Seasons convenient. Along with modern amenities and superior rooms, both have business facilities and are located beside shopping centres.

For water and mountain views, there are two world-famous choices, both situated at Canada Place. They are the Fairmont Waterfront, voted the country's top business hotel, and the world-famous Pan Pacific, luxuriously appointed. And if it is more refinement you're looking for, the Sutton Place Hotel is the place to be. With lavish accommodations styled after European homes, it's one of most elegant hotels in the city. Newer additions to the downtown hotel set include the Sheraton Wall Centre, Westin Grand Vancouver, and Lord Stanley Suites on the Park.

Budget conscious travelers who wish to stay downtown have a choice of many establishments with affordable rates. The Kingston is said to be the best low-cost hotel in town. In the heart of the theatre and club scene are the Barclay, Parkhill and Days Inn Vancouver Downtown. For the most inexpensive lodging downtown, there are two international youth hostels. The Jolly Taxpayer Hotel is also a popular choice among budget travelers.

West End

This densely populated area is still downtown, but located west of Burrard Street in the direction of Stanley Park, stretching between English Bay and Coal Harbour. It offers apartment-style accommodations and homey bed and breakfasts steps from the beach, Stanley Park and other attractions. The West End is teeming with diverse restaurants, bars, lounges, nightclubs and shops.

The Pacific Palisades Robson Street location can't be beat, especially when you're in town to shop. But if it's a room with views of Stanley Park and the North Shore mountains that you're after, the Westin Bayshore and new Meridan at 910 Beach are ideal choices. Also within short walking distance of the park is the elegant Buchan Hotel.

One of the most notable hotels on this side of town, however, is the eight story Sylvia Hotel with its ivy-covered brick walls. It's the first high-rise to be built in the West End and the first to operate a cocktail bar in Vancouver.

False Creek and West Side

This uptown area across the water from downtown has many inexpensive hotels that offer value and well-kept rooms. Only a short walk from the city core, you can enjoy the relative serenity of the area while still remaining close to the action. The Granville Island Hotel, for instance, is nestled on the market and restaurant-sprinkled island, with water views and great rooms. Other hotels in the vicinity are the Holiday Inn, Ramada, and Plaza 500 Hotel.

The West Side, especially Kitsilano, has many world-class bed and breakfasts close to beaches that stretch for miles into Point Grey. Kitsilano in particular is laid-back, comfortable and filled with shops, theatres and restaurants. Some special B&Bs in the area are Johnson Heritage House B&B, Maple Beach B&B, and the Walnut House B&B.

North Shore

Once you cross Burrard Inlet via the Lions Gate Bridge or SeaBus from Vancouver, you reach the green splendor of the North Shore. It’s near Grouse Mountain, Cypress and Mount Seymour ski areas, Capilano Suspension Bridge, Lonsdale Quay and many notable boutiques in North and West Vancouver.

At the foot of the North Shore mountains, you will find motels like the Ramada Vancouver-Northshore and Canyon Court Motel. Some bed and breakfasts set in forested areas include A Lynn Canyon House Bed& Breakfast and the Capilano Canyon Guest House. Other options are the panoramic city views and unique shopping possibilities of the Lonsdale Quay Hotel, located right beside the Lonsdale Quay Market.

Richmond/Airport

If you wish to stay near the airport or simply want to visit the city of Richmond, there are several accommodation choices. The Fairmont Vancouver Airport Hotel is nearest to the airport, located just steps away from the main terminal. If you want to experience the different things Richmond has to offer, however, stop at the Radisson President Hotel. It is close to a popular Chinese supermarket, adjacent to a Buddhist Temple and minutes from shopping centres. Other places to stay include Sandman Hotel Vancouver Airport, and Holiday Inn Airport.

Restaurants Insights

Whether diners crave glamorous, elegant, warm or unadorned, Vancouver offers thousands of choices for memorable cuisine. Many of the city’s establishments are internationally renowned and combine superb cuisine with extraordinary atmosphere.

Food-loving urbanites flock to bistros, dining rooms and cafes that range from home-style grub in perpetually busy diners to gourmet masterpieces in refined restaurants. Visitors can savour exotic Malaysian fare at lunch and Russian by nightfall, or choose from dozens of other ethnic cuisines. There are so many good restaurants in this city that it is difficult to narrow any list down to a few, but here are some noteworthy highlights.

Downtown

Joe Fortes Seafood& Chop House is a local favourite and a great place to go for beer and fresh smoked oysters. Other downtown highlights include Chartwell Restaurant, Diva at the Met, Le Gavroche, CinCin Ristorante and Piccolo Mondo.

West End

This beachside neighbourhood is known as one of the largest gay and lesbian communities in the country. The dining selection here is superb: busy Stepho’s Souvlaki Greek Taverna has traditional Hellenic treats and the award-winning Raincity Grill, has elegant decor that is upstaged only by its West Coast flavours. Another award-winner, Sami’s, has its second location here (the others is in Kitsilano), serving up Indian-inspired original creations. The popular Cafe de Paris celebrates Gallic cuisine here, too.

Yaletown

This is a good place to start your exploration of the city’s culinary creativity. Many of the city’s hottest eateries brighten this film and fashion centre. The Italian romance of Villa del Lupo and La Terrazza will soften even the most Scrooge-like of connoisseurs. If you prefer your meals more laid-back and inexpensive, Subeez and the Yaletown Brewing Co. are trendy hangouts with good food, eager-to-be-seen crowds, and in some cases, pouty and aloof wait-staff. The Southern-style barbecue creations at Dix BBQ& Brewery are also popular.

Gastown

This charming historic area has an eclectic selection of eateries. For hot and spicy dishes to warm up with on cool days, the Jewel of India Restaurant will satisfy. For a relaxed atmosphere and interesting experience, try the internationally-known Blunt Bros. Cafe. The Irish Heather is a relative newcomer to the area, and packs them in almost every night.

Chinatown

From Dim Sum to fine dining, Vancouver’s Chinatown offers Asian delicacies and treats. Some of the most popular venues include the busy and noisy Pink Pearl Seafood Restaurant and the Floata Seafood Restaurant, for authentic Hong Kong-style creations hot and fresh from the wok. Hon’s Wun-Tun House is a good choice as well.

Granville Island

This once-industrial island was transformed in the 1970s into what it is today: a city oasis with a famous public market, heavenly bakeries and cafes and fresh-food restaurants. Seafood lovers will revel in Bridges’ three-level restaurant, wine bar and bistro. Other choices include the Creek Restaurant and the Arts Club Backstage Lounge.

Kitsilano

This casual and health-conscious neighbourhood has some of the top restaurants in town. Weekend line-ups shouldn’t daunt you from trying out the kitschy, faux-greasy spoon humour of Sophie’s Cosmic Cafe, whose breakfasts are rumoured to be the best in town. The Naam is a landmark, open 24 hours and offering a selection of organic and vegan health food. Top of the heap is Lumiere, with its fine French cuisine infused with a West Coast sensibility and the freshest of ingredients. Other critic’s darlings: Sami’s Indo-American Bistro’s fresh and creative Indian-style; Pastis’ French cuisine taken to new heights; and the raved-about Vij’s Indian fusion creations. For young and casual hangouts, try the bar-like atmosphere of Nevermind.

Point Grey

This somewhat sleepy and upscale section of the city offers many dining choices. Try the Celtic hospitality of Dentry’s Irish Grill for a good time and meal. If you want something more intimate, the Brock House Restaurant provides an elegant setting for special dinners, and Cafe Madeleine offers a selection here is superb: busy Stepho’s Souvlaki Greek Taverna has traditional Hellenic treats and the award-winning Raincity Grill, has elegant decor that is upstaged only by its West Coast flavours. Another award-winner, Sami’s, has its second location here (the others is in Kitsilano), serving up Indian-inspired original creations. The popular Cafe de Paris celebrates Gallic cuisine here, too.

East Vancouver

There is plenty to sample all over vibrant East Vancouver, from Main Street’s Little India to Victoria Drive’s Portuguese neighbourhood to Commercial Drive’s Little Italy. Try the savoury Indian fare at Nirvana and All India Sweets, both on Main Street. Farther east on Commercial Drive, there is so much to choose from that it may take a week of dining just to get an idea of its offerings. Places like Federico’s Ristorante& Supper Club offer traditional Italian meals, while newer places like the Cuba-inspired Havana and the literary Bukowskii's offer hip alternatives with live entertainment. Fei's has a 1950s diner feel, while Cafe Deux Soleils serves creative vegetarian meals. Further west on Main Street, young and artistic hangouts like the Locus and the Grind& Gallery Coffee Bar are changing the shape of city dining.

South Vancouver

Restaurants are fewer and farther between in this suburban uptown area, but there are gems worth the quick drive from downtown. The elegant Seasons Hill Top Bistro in Queen Elizabeth Park offers fine dining.

Nightlife Insights

Vancouver offers everything from fine arts, cinema, literary readings, theatre and many spectator sports. The arts and entertainment weekly Georgia Straight, and the Thursday and Friday editions of the Vancouver Sun and Province provide extensive listings of the city's events and venues.

Music

Bryan Adams, Sarah McLachlan, k.d. lang, Bif Naked, 54-40 and Diana Krall. These are just some of the big-name artists who began their music careers here. They have made it so big that you rarely see them perform locally anymore. When they do, you will find them at large venues like B.C. Place, General Motors Place, the Vogue, Orpheum Theatre or Queen Elizabeth Theatre.

Vancouver's music scene is diverse. The Chan Centre for the Performing Arts at the University of British Columbia and the Orpheum Theatre, home of the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, are great venues for classical music performances. For jazz, blues and fusion, the best bets are the Cellar Restaurant & Jazz Club, Rossini's, the Roxy, Blue Note Jazz Bistro, Starfish Room and the Yale.

For punk, indie and other aural alternatives, smaller venues like the Commodore Ballroom and the Railway Club are probably your best bets to catch local and international talent in intimate settings. Of course, nothing's more intimate than an in-store performance at Red Cat Records.

For electronica, house and slyly spinning DJs, Sonar, the Sugar Refinery and Nevermind are some of the places to go.

Cinemas

Several first-run movie theatres are within a few blocks of each other downtown. Across the bridge, the newer Fifth Avenue Cinemas show popular art and alternative films to grateful West Side crowds. For independent, art, foreign and experimental films, check out the diverse listings at the Ridge, and the Pacific Cinematheque.

Vancouver also has two large-screen theatres: the Alcan Omnimax Theatre at Science World and the CN IMAX at Canada Place.

Mega-screen movie theatres have been popping up over the last few years, and there are more than a few in and around the city, like Cinemark Tinseltown.

Theatres

From classic Broadway hits to innovative productions, rich and varied theatrical activity has always been a part of the city's entertainment scene. The 2,929-seat Queen Elizabeth Theatre is the city's largest. It's perfect for seeing touring musicals, international opera and modern dance. Next door to the QE is the more intimate Vancouver Playhouse, a 668-seat auditorium that stages plays, concerts, chamber music and modern dance.

Other theatre and concert venues include the Arts Club Theatre, the refurbished Stanley Theatre, Orpheum, Firehall Arts Centre, Presentation House Gallery and the Vancouver East Cultural Centre.

Comedy

For seriously funny stuff, try Yuk Yuk's. It has theatre-style seating, a full-dinner menu and stand-up comics from the city and around the world. The Arts Club Theatre on Granville Island is another venue for interactive fun. It's home to the Theatre Sports "improv" group.

Sports

Vancouver offers a medley of sports events. From September to May, the NHL's Vancouver Canucks plays the coolest game on earth in General Motors Place.

June kicks off the pre-season games of the Canadian Football League. You can catch the B.C. Lions in action from July to late October at B.C. Place.

Festivals

Some acclaimed international festivals that provide year-round fun and entertainment include the Vancouver International Film Festival, Vancouver Fringe Festival, Vancouver International Children's Festival, International Jazz Festival, Comedy Festival, Folk Music Festival, and New Music Festival. They occur all over the city and offer locals and visitors a chance to mingle.

Things to Do Insights

Vancouver is a city of adventure. Tours, whether professionally-guided or a personal adventure, give visitors the chance to take advantage of the city's vitality and experience the area's natural beauty. The biggest problem is deciding how you're going to take in all there is to see.

Tour One: Vancouver On Foot

For a glance into the city's past, try the free Historic Walking Tours of Gastown. Set in the city's birthplace, the daily tour highlights the area's many attractions and shopping, restaurants and bars. Visit the Steam Clock, shop at The Landing, and get a picture taken with the statue of the area's founder, Gassy Jack. You'll stroll through streets named Blood Alley and Gaoler's Mews, the city's first jail cell.

There is much to discover by walking through the streets of Vancouver. The Architectural Institute of B.C (AIBC) provides a variety of tours in the summer months. The free tours show Vancouver's history through the city's architecture. Visit highlights like Canada Place, Robson Square, Cathedral Place, and Strathcona.

You can stroll through Burnaby Village Museum, saunter through the exhibits in the Canadian Craft Museum, enjoy a sample of micro-brewed beer in the Granville Island Brewery, and learn about West Coast First Nations culture at the Museum of Anthropology.

Another guided walking tour follows the history of the Chinese-Canadian community in Chinatown. Many tour companies offer tours that take you through one of North America's largest Chinatowns. You'll see Dr.

Sun Yat Sen Classical Chinese Gardens, the Chinese Cultural Centre Museum and the bustling street markets.

If you would rather explore Vancouver at your own pace, then pay a visit to the Vancouver Tourist Information Centres. One of the city's best features is its close proximity to natural wonders. For guided hikes through some of its closest attractions, such as Lighthouse Park, Horseshoe Bay and Bowen Island, check out Rockwood Adventures. They have an extensive selection of walking tours.

Tour Two: Nature

For bus tours, there are several companies in the city, including Gray Lines and Pacific Coach Lines. If you're looking for a smaller mini-van tour, then try Cityscape or Blue Mountain Tours. Many offer multilingual, narrated tours that can be customized.

With the fresh air and views, it's easy to get caught up in the city's healthy vibe. Velo-city Cycle Tours takes you on guided cycle tours of the city and surrounding area. You'll spend time in and around Granville Island, Vanier Park and Grouse Mountain.

There are also several options for those looking for unusual excursions. At Stanley Park, Horse Drawn Tours take passengers on an old-world wagon ride through the 1000-acre park. For something less equestrian, the Vancouver Trolley Company takes passengers on a turn-of-the-century trolley ride to view the city's sites along various avenues and thoroughfares. You can see the city at your own pace, getting on or off at any of the 16 stops to visit attractions.

For a minivan customized tour, try Captain Billy's Magical Tours. Or see the city in style with Fridge's Early Motion Tours, who not only personalize their excursions, but do it all in a 1930s Ford Model A. To learn more about West Coast First Nations, several tour companies, including West Coast City and Nature Sightseeing and Detours Excursions B.C. have special day trips that highlight the heritage, history, art, and importance of B.C.'s native cultures.

For an extravagant and romantic tour, B.C. Rail's Pacific Starlight Dinner Train runs from spring to autumn. A restored dining car provides gourmet cuisine and views as it glides through North Vancouver, Howe Sound, and Porteau Cove. Another opulent B.C. Rail excursion offers a combination voyage. Take the luxury steam locomotive Royal Hudson Steam Train to Squamish, passing along the coastline past West Vancouver and Horseshoe Bay. Once at Squamish, cruise home to Vancouver on the Harbour Cruises"Britannia."

Often referred to as the"Hollywood of the North," Vancouver is the third largest film and TV shooting centre in North America, after L.A. and New York. The popular"X-Files" was shot here for years. Hence the idolatrous X-Tours, which, among other special experiences, offers limousine tours of spots where X-scenes and memorable film moments took place.

Tour Three: By Water

Touring Vancouver by water can be adventurous and is one of the best ways to see the area. Although the more daring can charter their own boats at places like Cooper Boating, companies like Harbour Cruises offer guided sightseeing cruises that let passengers view the city from Burrard Inlet, Howe Sound, Vancouver's harbour and English Bay.

B.C. Ferries can take you to the city's surrounding islands for great day trips, and the convenient SeaBus enables you to travel quickly to and from the downtown waterfront and the North Shore. Starline Boating Tours offer seasonal trips throughout the area. You can take a tour of the historic fishing village of Steveston, hop aboard the sea lion cruises in the spring, marvel on a killer whale watching expedition or relax on the Pitt Lake cruise.

There are also several wilderness sightseeing tours that use Vancouver as a launching point. Paddlewheeler River Adventures and LotusLand Tours provide water excursions that offer insight into the spectacular scenery and history of British Columbia.

Tour Four: By Air

Vancouver by air is a spectacle that every visitor should experience. There are a number of reliable air tour providers in the region. Although more extravagant than a ground-bound tour, air charters offer unforgettable bird's-eye views. Harbour Air has a fleet of seaplanes that provide quick city tours, as well as outings into secluded wilderness areas.

Vancouver Helicopter Tours also offers panoramic air trips over the city and surrounding mountains and valleys. They have a nighttime flight, the Grouse Helipicnic, where you can fly up to Grouse Mountain and dine while overlooking the city.

Travel Tips

Getting There

By Air

Situated nine miles south of downtown, the Vancouver International Airport(YVR)(+1 604 276 6500/ http://www.yvr.ca) ushers in more than 15 million passengers a year. Amenities include numerous restaurants and shops, a spa, dry cleaners, a kid's play area and even a dentist. The following major airlines all touchdown upon its runways:

Helijet International provides service between Vancouver and Victoria. They also offer charter services from their Vancouver Airport base.(+1 604 273 4688/ http://helijet.com/)
The Vancouver Airporter Service (+1 800 668 3141) stands as the most popular form of ground transportation into downtown. Buses exit every 15 minutes from 6:30a-9:15p, and every 30 minutes from 9:15p-midnight. It services all major downtown hotels. One-way tickets cost around USD12.

More than 400 metered taxis service the airport. Rides into downtown take 25 minutes and average USD25. They can be found outside of the domestic and international terminals and operate around the clock. Some of the more noted cab companies include:

- Black Top& Checker Cabs Ltd (+1 604 731 1111)
- Bonny’s Taxi (+1 604 435 6655)
- Yellow Cab Company (+1 604 681 1111)

Rental Car Companies

- Alamo (+1 800 327 9633/ http://www.alamo.com)
- Avis (+1 800 831 2847/ http://www.avis.com)
- Budget (+1 800 527 0700/ http://www.budget.com)
- Hertz (+1 800 654 3131/ http://www.hertz.com)
- National (+1 800 227 7368/ http://www.nationalcar.com)
- Thrifty (+1 800 367 2277/ http://www.thrifty.com)

Another attractive ground transportation option is Zipcar, which operates in certain cities in Canada and the U.S. This new breed of rental car allows you to rent on an hourly basis rather than a daily basis. Be sure to register online before your trip. Zipcar (+1 866 404 7227/ http://www.zipcar.com)

By Rail

- Via Rail (+1 888 842 7245/ http://www.viarail.ca) chugs into Pacific Central Station at 1150 Station Street three times a week. It services the eastern half of Canada starting in Toronto. Its scenic wander through the Canadian Rockies makes it extremely popular with tourists. Amtrak (+1 800 872 7245/ http://www.amtrak.com) also huffs into Pacific Central Station, but from the south, beginning in Eugene, Oregon. BC Rail (+1 604 631 3500/ http://www.bcrail.com) operates from northern Vancouver’s train station at 1311 West First Street. It services northern British Columbia and includes stops in Whistler, Lillooet, and Squamish.

By Bus

- Pacific Central Station also serves as Vancouver’s main bus station. Greyhound (+1 800 661 8747/ http://www.greyhound.ca) arrives from all points north, south, east and west. Pacific Coach Lines (+1 800 661 1725/ http://www.pacificcoach.com) confines its routes to the surrounding Vancouver area with daily service from Victoria, on Vancouver Island, every two hours.

By Ferry

SeaBus, another TransLink subsidiary, provides passenger-only ferry service across the Burrard Inlet. The 15-minute ride links downtown Vancouver with the North Shore and costs USD2. Bikes are allowed on board.

BC Ferries (+1 888 223 3779/ http://www.bcferries.com) connects Vancouver with 46 surrounding ports via 25 routes. Its boats service Vancouver Island, the Sunshine Coast, the Southern and Northern Gulf Islands, and the Saanich Inlet. One-way passenger fares are USD6.15 and cars are charged USD23.

By Bike

Vancouver enjoys legendary status for being extremely bike friendly. It features 19 bikeways, including scenic passages along the seawall and through Stanley Park. Routes are designated with green signs every other block. Keep in mind that helmets are mandatory.

By Taxi

Taxis can be found at all hotels and are rather easy to hail in downtown. Some of the more prominent companies include:

- Black Top& Checker Cabs (+1 604 731 1111)
- Bonny’s Taxi (+1 604 435 6655)
- Royal City Taxi (+1 604 521 6666)
- Yellow Cab Company (+1 604 681 1111)

Even though no major highways slice through downtown it is still fairly easy to negotiate and rewards drivers with ample parking. However, take every measure to avoid driving during morning(7a-9a) and afternoon(3p-6p) rush hours. Especially avoid the North Shore Bridges, the Massey Tunnel, and Highway 1 through Coquitlam and Surrey.

Getting Around

By Train

- TransLink, The Greater Vancouver Transportation Authority (+1 604 953 3333/ http://www.translink.bc.ca), eases the need for a car. SkyTrain features 27 miles of tracks that service the area in an east/ west direction. Both lines, the Expo and the Millennium, offer stops that are serviced every five minutes. This represents the fastest way for maneuvering through downtown. One-way fares are USD2.

In August 2009, the Canada Line opened up 16 new stations in Vancouver and Richmond. The 19 km of track has nine stations in Vancouver, four in Richmond and also goes directly to Vancouver’s International Airport, YVR. www.canadoline.ca/

By Bus

Translink buses maze through downtown and the surrounding suburbs. Transfers are interchangeable with SkyTrain and the SeaBus. One-way fares cost USD2 and USD4 for rides to the suburbs.

By Ferry

Vancouver Port Authority (+1 604 665 9000/ http://www.portvancouver.com), usher in more than one million cruise ship passengers a year through the Canada Place and Ballardine Terminals. Waiting taxis are easy to find upon disembarking.

By Car

Highway 1, or better known as the Trans-Canada Highway, winds east out of the Canadian Rockies. Interstate 5 from the United States turns into Highway 99 at the border and snakes into Vancouver from the south and north. A drive from Seattle takes about three hours. Calgary, to the east, with good weather takes 11.5 hours.
